Senators Drum & Bugle Corps 2008 Show Announcement

21 November 2007

The Senators Drum and Bugle Corps from Eastleigh Hampshire are pleased to announce that the Corps will be performing "The Seven Deadly Sins" as their 2008 Summer Season production.

The 2007 DCE European Champion will once again excite audiences both in the UK and in mainland Europe with a show full of variety and originality, Craig Sherratt Visual Designer for the Senators commented.

"We held many discussions recently, with regards to what show would be the perfect vehicle to move the Corps forward after our successes last year, one of the most pleasing aspects of the 2007 show was the variety in terms of Audio and Visual Co-ordination. The Seven Deadly Sins are something we all come across everyday whether via the media or in personal life and we are excited about the possibilities the Senators have to portray them in our own unique way.

The Corps is pleased to announce that our design team of Andrew Markworth (Music), Craig Sherratt (Visual) and Ian Butt (Colour Guard) have all returned for 2008 and work has already begun on the production ready for the Corps to start rehearsals at our brand new state of the art headquarters "The Pavilion on the Park" in Eastleigh on Saturday January 12th 2008.
